

Who we are?

The grass root of our story goes back to over 7 millennia ago within the cradles of civilisation in Egypt. Our hometown, Abu-Tig, in Upper Egypt, is recognised for being a large storehouse of herbs and spices with medicinal and healing properties. The city's name itself means "A Warehouse of Medicine," and through time, the phrase "Abu-Tig" became known as "Apotec," which means "Pharmacy" in Latin.

We have access to one of nature's extraordinary gifts at this cherished location, which has blessed us with fertile land, the ideal climate for herbs cultivation, and the pure waters of the Nile River. This further gives us the advantage of being the largest cultivator and exporter of botanical extracts and solutions in the MENA region.

For many years, we've been promoting an organic agriculture movement for the food & beverage, nutraceuticals & wellbeing, and beauty care industries by continuously monitoring our value chain and safeguarding biodiversity and ecosystems

We take pride in being the First Industrial Supercritical Fluid CO₂ Extraction Plant in the MENA Region.

Food & Beverage

Botanical extracts address today's wellness-seeking and health-conscious customers by preserving the finest of nature's ingredients. At APOTEC BAY, we are able to deliver both functional and sensory value because of extensive research and development, responsible sourcing, and state-of-the-art extraction processes.

We take great pride in offering botanical extract expertise and providing a broad range of solutions that aim to generate depictional benefits for various food and beverage categories, including confectionery, bakery products, beverages, savoury products, dairy products, and more.

Nutraceuticals

We use our expertise and market insight on colour, texture, and flavour to help you invent products that offer several well-being benefits and an excellent consumer experience.

Choose from a variety of clean-label and plant-based product solutions. They are nutrition- and health-focused, ensuring quality and identity with APOTEC BAY's integrated and robust global supply chain.

Beauty Care

The chemical constituents of different herbs are extracted from their inert plant fibres using a natural solvent to produce botanical extracts. These ready-to-use extracts are 100% natural and preservative-free. They can be integrated into pre-existing cosmetic bases or new products, such as foaming products, fragrance products, moisturisers, after-sun products, and more.

Get in touch with us today, take advantage of our broad portfolio of botanical extracts and add value to your wide range of your products.
