A natural beauty enhancer for Skin

Bamboo is full of natural silica, an essential mineral that promotes healthy skin, hair, and bone growth. In fact, it contains more than 70% silica making it the richest natural source of this mineral.

Bamboo extract might reduce the body's aging process which includes the formation of wrinkles, loose skin, and fine lines. It also contains methanol, a powerful healing agent that cleanses and promotes skin healing. Not only does it work with minor cuts or scrapes, but the beauty industry has taken this magical factor and ran with it.

It helps in the management of acne, dark spots, red spots, and inflamed skin. As a healing agent, it can reduce the size and color of dark spots by reducing melanin production.

Vital for Skin Restoration

Improves skin firmness - Natural silica in bamboo extract helps build collagen (that prevents skin from sagging) and maintains skin firmness

Powerful skin anti-inflammatory - Bamboo extract is the perfect pair with Activated Charcoal in our Charcoal Cleanser and Charcoal Mask to fight acne and normalize oily and combination skin!

Bamboo extract act as powerful antioxidants to fight skin-damaging free radicals generated from the environment, pollution, stress, and many other factors!

Advanced skin hydration and re-plumping - Bamboo extract and Bamboo water contain Glycosaminoglycans, known as GAGs (commonly known as Hyaluronic acid). They are very large molecules that exist naturally in the dermis of the skin and act as natural moisture agents that bind nearly 1000 times their weight in water.
