Who We Are

A Family Legacy Built on the Finest Coconuts

Natural Coco Ana is the trading name of St. Anne's Factory Enterprises, a family-run business established in 1953 in Sri Lanka. With over seven decades in the coconut industry and three generations of expertise, Coco Ana has grown into a trusted global supplier of premium organic coconut products.

The company is dedicated to providing the finest quality coconut-derived products tested and certified to international standards, maintaining an unwavering focus on customer satisfaction, product integrity, and ethical sourcing.

Our Mission

What We Do & Why

To produce and export the finest quality organic coconut products from Sri Lanka sourced from our Fairtrade-certified farmer community in the North Western Province, processed with precision in our ISO 22000 & FSSC 22000 certified facility, and delivered to global buyers with unwavering consistency.

We are committed to quality above all else — upholding three generations of family expertise, empowering our farming communities, and ensuring every product meets the highest international certification standards, from grove to shipment.

Our vision

Where We Are Going

To be the world's most trusted, ethical, and innovative source of premium Sri Lankan coconut derivatives a globally recognised brand built on 70 years of heritage, Fairtrade principles, and state-of-the-art manufacturing excellence.

We envision a future where Natural Coco Ana enriches every link in the chain from the farmer families of Sri Lanka who grow our coconuts, to the businesses and consumers around the world who depend on our quality and integrity.

G JOSEPH LALITH NEOMAL PERERA

Director

An MBA graduate from University of West London, Neomal presides as Chairman of the Board. Overlooking both the operations and sales. Neomal has expanded what was a Desiccated Coconut factory to more diverse state of the art product manufacturing facility and expanding the company product portfolio to product such as Coconut Milk and Virgin Coconut Oil. A former politician his skills of diplomacy are no doubt an advantage in dealing with both buyers and suppliers.

G PETER ANDREW EVAN PERERA

Director

After earning an Honours degree in Politics and Law (LLB) from Buckingham, UK, he returned to Colombo, Sri Lanka, to assume leadership of the family business. Andrew immediately embarked on a journey to global exhibitions, aiming to directly link the company's products with international buyers. Within just one year, Andrew demonstrated that a turnover of $1 million was merely the beginning of his export successes. Currently, Andrew leads the Legal, Branding, and Product Diversification efforts of the company, driving its continuous growth and innovation.
